

CALLING ALL

BACKYARD GARDENERS

GROW MORE PRODUCE THAN YOU CAN EAT?

Think about selling at your local Farmer's Market! Nourish and connect with members of your community - all while putting money in your pocket!

Get a booth for yourself, or split space with a fellow gardener in your neighborhood. Markets may even have free 'community booths' for you to use!

For more information, contact Jessica Stillman, Shields Valley Farmer's Market Manager (406)581-1122 | shieldsvalleymarket@gmail.com

WHY SELL YOUR GARDEN PRODUCE AT A FARMER'S MARKET?

1

Produce vendors can be hard to come by!

More produce can mean more customers for the market - and more people eating local food!

2

Feed low-income members of your community by getting authorized to accept Senior FMNP coupons and other food benefits.

3

It's easy and can put a couple bucks in your pocket! You won't need any permits or certifications*, just a willingness to show up and play by your market's rules

Get in touch with your local Farmer's Market Manager to learn more about how to get booth space, or to see if there's a free community booth. Don't know where to start, or want to learn how you can accept Senior FMNP coupons as a backyard gardener?

Shields Valley Farmer's Market Manager:

Jessica Stillman

shieldsvalleymarket@gmail.com
(406)581-1122

Contact James Keys james@missoulacfac.org

*A Personal Liability Insurance Policy is recommended if your local Market doesn't carry General Liability Insurance (for the entire market).